Applying Global Standards

Marriott International deploys the health protocols that were developed with the intent to reduce person to person contact, increase cleaning and sanitation of high-touch points both front and back-of-house, and utilize technologies to address potential air contamination.

Guidelines that We Follow

We do...

- Screen temperature of guests, associates and vendors upon entry
- Provide hand sanitizer dispensers in high-traffic public spaces
- Maintain 6 feet (2 meters) between associates and guests as well as between guests using signage, physical barriers, etc.
- Provide guest sanitation kits (e.g. wipes, sprays) as an in-room guest amenity upon check-in
- Clean and disinfect all public bathrooms at least every hour with the recommended disinfectant
- Disinfect all check-out rooms utilizing electrostatic spraying
- Apply physical distancing of banquet setup in meeting & events

Guidelines that We Follow

- Associates should sanitize their hands between guests and each interaction when handling guest room keys, registration cards, cash, credit cards or identification
- Face coverings (masks) are required for all associates
- All returned guest room keys are disinfected, as well as used cooking utensils and cutleries in the restaurant
- Associates should wear gloves when handling guests' property
- Digital access to reading materials will be provided, since we will eliminate unnecessary reading materials (newspapers, magazines, local area books, etc.) and soft printed materials (collateral), including pens and pads.

Live At Aloft Hotels (LAAH) is a series of intimate, acoustic sets by up- and-coming artists held at all Aloft hotels around the globe.

These events enhance the experience for our target guests – the Self Expressers – who are forward thinking, social and curious consumers of culture with a love for Music, Technology & Design.

LAAH brings brand to life with live music performances by emerging artists and engages local & divisional artists by hosting the search for the next emerging talent.
