Banjar Fee : payable USD 100++ (without firework) or USD 210++ (with firework)

In Bali it is common practice to pay the Local Banjar a fee for all weddings, events and ceremonies held in the local community. “The Banjar” is in fact the local village elders /council that meet regularly to ensure the local community is smooth running, dispute and problem free. Similar to a council, they will often take responsibility for overseeing how an event affects and impacts the local community. They will meet to discuss that the events theme will not be offensive in content and theme to local traditions and cultural practices. They will aim to ensure security, often help with parking and traffic management due to increases in congestion often on small access roads where events are to be hosted. They will also ensure that noise levels are acceptable for the community residents, liaise with higher authorities where necessary. In general they are committed to ensuring your holiday and time in Bali is enjoyable, problem free and most important safe for you, your family and possessions. The Banjar Fee is not a set amount for each location and will vary according to you and the requirements of your event.

Wet Weather & Acts of God

The client hereby understands that all Karma Kandara venues are held outdoors and in the event of rain; there will be no contingency plan available. The Events Manager will organize to the best of their ability to advise on the date to attempt to try and avoid any heavy rainfall. Karma Kandara recommends a rain stopper for your event and will be charged at the rate of USD 250++ per event, however Karma Kandara resorts will not guarantee this will prevent wet weather.
